Kept on Hand

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 30.—The Postoffice Department today issued the following statement:

The war in Europe is proving a big boon to postal savings in this country. From the very day hostilities opened across the seas postal-savings receipts began to increase by leaps and bounds and withdrawals fell off. Two important results have followed; thousands of people, largely of foreign birth, accustomed to send their savings abroad, are now patrons of our postal-savings system; and enormous sums of actual cash have been released for commercial uses among our own people at a time when the need for every available dollar is pressing.

The growth of postal savings in the United States has been steady and healthy and the system has filled an important gap between the tin-can depository and the factory paymaster. On July 1, when affairs were running smoothly here and abroad and the transmission of money across the Atlantic was safe and expeditious, there was approximately $42,000,000 of postal savings standing to the credit of about 388,000 depositors. Since then over $10,000,000 of deposits have been added and the number of depositors has increased enormously. More than 7,000 new accounts were opened during the period in New York alone, bringing the number of depositors in that city up to over 21,000.

The unexpected increase in postal-savings business has added greatly to the general administrative duties of the system. A number of the very largest banks in the country, which have heretofore declined to qualify as depositories for postal-savings funds, are now among the eager applicants for them.

LIQUOR AND POLITICAL STRUGGLE IN COLORADO

DENVER, Oct. 29.—The voters of Colorado on Nov. 3 will elect a complete state, legislative, congressional and senatorial ticket, and at the same time decide whether the state shall be "wet" or "dry." Even the European war failed to deprive the pre-election campaign of interest and it was one of the most spirited in the history of the state.

A three-cornered fight is being made. Principal interest is centered in the governorship, the candidates being Thomas M. Patterson, Democrat; George A. Carlton, Republican, and Edward P. Costigan, Progressive. The coal miners' strike has been made one of the principal issues of the campaign.

KAISER GIVES THE LIE DIRECT TO PORTUGAL

BERLIN (by wireless via Saville), Oct. 30.—An official denial was issued today of the Lisbon report that the Germans have invaded Angola, a Portuguese African possession. "It is a flat lie, forged in order to justify Portugal's participation in the war," the denial said. "It is certain that the Beyers and De Wet revolt in British South Africa is assuming formidable proportions."

CARRANZISTAS ARE WHIPPED IN FIGHT

EL PASO, Oct. 30.—Renewed fighting between Carranza and Villa troops was reported today at Sangil, twenty miles east of Aguas Calientes. The Villistas are reported to have attempted to prevent the mobilization of the Carranzistas, who had threatened the generals participating in the peace conference. The Villistas are reported as successful in the fray.

Belgian-France Conflict Has Cost Allies 50,000 Men;
German Loss Greater

PARIS, Oct. 30.—Even the military authorities were staggered today by the reports of the awful losses in the last fortnight's fighting on the Franco-Belgian frontier.

The allies, it was stated, lost 50,000 in killed, wounded and captured, while the German casualties are said to be three times greater than those of the allies.

Every available village between Nieupoort and Dixmude was obliterated by the frightful attacks of monster artillery.

'DRY' OR 'WET' IS CRUX IN OHIO ELECTION

Coming Contest Considered as Most Important Ever
Held in State

POLITICS FORGOTTEN
IN BURNING FIGHT

'Wet' and 'Dry' Parties Spend
Ten Times as Much Cash as Three Old Parties

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 30.—Ohio voters will go to the polls Nov. 3 to cast their ballots in the most important election ever held in the state. Not only are the voters to elect state, congressional, county and judicial tickets, but they are to decide the statewide prohibition and woman suffrage questions.

Party questions have been shoved into the background by the "wets" and "drys." The usual question of "Who's going to be our next governor?" has been replaced by "Will the state go dry?"

Here are a few of the reasons for this situation:
From three to six times as much money was spent by the "wet" and "dry" armies as was expended by the Democratic, Republican and Bull Moose state committees combined in their efforts to elect their state and legislative tickets.

Huge Sums Spent
Five times as many workers were employed by the "wets" and "drys" as were found in the three political organizations.

For every piece of literature distributed by the three political parties at least ten pieces were distributed by the "wets" and "drys."

The "dry" forces raised and spent about $150,000 in their effort to write a state-wide prohibition amendment into the state constitution.

The "wets" made no announcement of the size of their campaign fund, but it was reported to be around the million dollar mark.
The "drys" claimed to have 75,000 active workers with precinct organizations to get out their vote. The "wets" had the backing of 304,000 voters who signed their petitions and organized home rule associations all over the state.

The constitutional amendment proposed by the "drys" provides statewide prohibition. In opposition the "wets" presented a proposed amendment which repeals the Rose county option law and prevents state-wide prohibition through legislative enactment.

Suffragists Work Hard
Two more proposed constitutional amendments confront the voter. One provides for woman suffrage; the other writes the Smith one per cent tax law into the constitution.

The suffragists have made a determined fight to carry the state, the national organization sending its best speakers here, as the suffragists believe with the vote in Ohio the most eastern state to vote on the question, they will have more chance for success when they move on New York and other eastern states next year. The "wet" and "dry" fight, however, has served to prevent the spotlight from being turned their way.

Naturally, the prohibition issue was extended to the political arena. The progressives, with James R. Garfield, former cabinet member under Theodore Roosevelt, as their candidate for governor, came out flat-footed for state-wide prohibition and woman suffrage.

The Democratic party, with Gov. James M. Cox as its candidate, ignored both issues.
The Republicans, who have as their gubernatorial candidate Congressman Frank B. Willis, took no sides on woman suffrage, but adopted a liquor plank in their platform which, after asserting that statewide prohibition is a question for the voters themselves to decide declared for strict law enforcement and for the decentralization of liquor license boards.

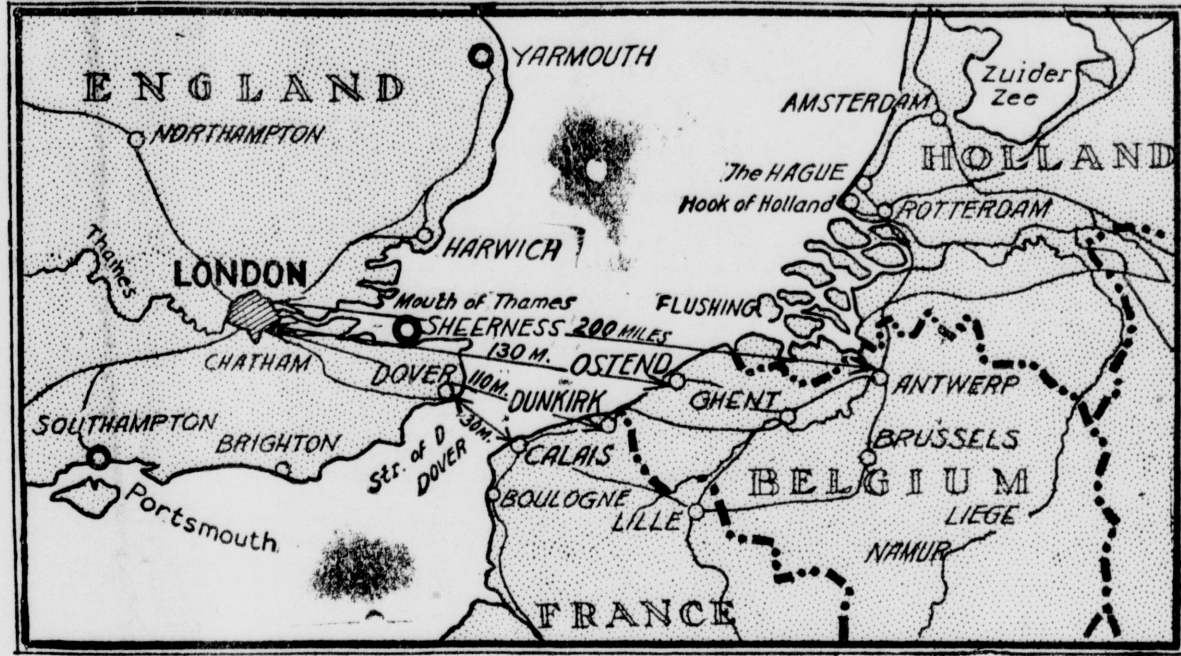

The prohibition party withdrew its state ticket and threw its support to the progressive state ticket.
Incidentally a United States senator is to be chosen directly by the voters for the first time. The leading candidates are: Attorney General T. S. Hogan, Democrat; Warren G. Harding, Republican, and A. L. Gardner, Progressive.

Here Is Map Showing German Objectives Air Invasion of England Set for February

MANY MILITARY experts have thought the purpose of the Germans in taking Antwerp was to sweep on to the English Channel and there find a base for an attack of Zeppelins on London. With possession of the north Belgian cities like Ghent and Ostend they may move on to the French coast and eventually take Dunkirk and Calais. The trip from Calais across to London would be very short, and it is likely if the Germans came into possession of it there would be a panic in London.

Dispatches from Amsterdam quote an unnamed German aviator as saying that Germany's aerial invasion

Dunkirk and Calais. The trip from Calais across to be occasional raids before that time, the general assault by Zeppelins and aeroplanes, he says, will not begin until then because Germany will not be ready earlier. Forty-six Zeppelins will then be ready, it is said.

This aviator is quoted as saying that Germany is building 200 aeroplanes of a new and very large type, especially for the attack on London. These machines, he says, will be capable of carrying 1000 pounds besides the aviator and bomb thrower. Aviators are now being trained to operate them.

GERMANS SUFFER HEAVY LOSSES ON YSER

Flooded by Dyke Waters and 'Shelled by Allies; British Regain Points Taken by Foes

PARIS, Oct. 30.—Substantial gains against the Germans are claimed by the Bordeaux war office this afternoon. The Belgians have cut the dykes on the lower Yser, flooding the country occupied by the Germans, and simultaneously the allies opened a heavy artillery fire. The German losses are declared to have been enormous.

"On our extreme left," the statement says, "flood spread by the Belgian army in the lower Yser valley compelled the Germans to retreat. The Teutons were also violently shelled by French and Belgian artillery. They attempted three fierce counter attacks on a Franco-British army corps advancing east and northeast of Ypres, but at the end of the day the troops of the allies continued their forward movement in the direction to which they had been assigned. They took several points of support. The British, attacked by a superior force of Germans at several points north of Labasse, resumed an energetic offensive, regaining in a large measure the ground previously ceded to the enemy. On numerous other points on the line of combat they likewise repulsed German attacks with serious loss.

"Along the rest of the battle front there was no general action, but there are partial offensive movements both on our part and the enemy."
Pierce fighting on the French-Belgian frontier is reported to have been resumed following strong German reinforcements, the Germans assaulting the allies' lines between Nieupoort and Dixmude. The British forces were hard pressed between Lille and Armentieres and French reinforcements were sent to their aid.

But Orders Black Sea Fleet to

Land Troops Mobilize

LONDON, Oct. 30.—The Russian ambassador at Constantinople has been ordered to demand his passports and leave Turkey immediately, according to a News Agency dispatch today from Petrograd. Simultaneously all Russian consuls in Turkey have been recalled, the report said.

Advices from several sources tonight agreed in the confirmation of the statement that the Czar has recalled all Russian diplomats in Turkey.

It was added that a virtual state of war between Russian and Turkey has existed since the Turkish warships began hostilities against Russia. A formal exchange of declarations soon is expected.

PETROGRAD, Oct. 30.—Russia is delaying a declaration of war against Turkey this afternoon on the theory that even yet the Sultan may repudiate the acts of Turkish naval commanders attacking Russian ports and shipping. Farouk Bey, the Turkish ambassador here, remained at his post, awaiting instructions. He expressed his unchanged opinion that Turkey will remain neutral. He expressed his personal regret at the latest developments, of which he said he had received no official news.

Russian officialdom appeared overjoyed today at Turkey's alleged participation in the European war, declaring the opportunity was now offered for a present settlement of the Turkish problem. The Black Sea fleet was immediately ordered to seek and destroy the Turkish squadron and troops were mobilized in preparation for the land campaign.

At this hour war had not been officially declared by Turkey, but war officials stated that there is no question of the correctness of the reports that the Sultan has begun hostilities. Communication with Constantinople has been interrupted, and no report has been received from the Russian Embassy there.

The appearance of newspaper special editions announcing that the Turks had attacked Russian ports and vessels was followed by a patriotic demonstration in the streets here overshadowing those incident at the outbreak of the German war. Led by uniformed officers, processions were formed and waving Russian flags and the flags of the allies, the marched to the winter palace where speeches were made and patriotic songs were sung. The war office claims that Germany has as a means of relieving the pressure on the Teutonic lines in Galicia, Poland and East Prussia.

Theodosia, a Russian seaport formerly known as Kaffa, and lying on the southeast coast of Crimea, 100 miles south of Sebastopol, was bombarded for an hour yesterday morning by a Turkish cruiser, believed to be a former German cruiser.

The surrender of Novorossysk, Caucasus, was demanded yesterday by the Turkish cruiser Hamidieh, with a threat to bombard if the demand was refused. The Turkish consul and officials were arrested and the Hamidieh withdrew.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—That Odessa was bombarded last night and much American property destroyed was stated today in a cablegram to the state department from the American embassy at Petrograd. The information is based on a report from the American consul at Odessa. The state department officials assumed that the bombardment was by Turkish vessels.

GASOLINE GOSSIP

An Alibi

Fred (Dockett) Ross, manager of the William F. Lutz Company, saw Santiago Peak, otherwise known as Saddleback, Monday as he was leaving Los Angeles in one of the 1915 Studebakers for Santa Ana. Ross says that he has traveled the road between Los Angeles and Santa Ana for 10, these many moons, but that he had never been able to see Saddleback so clearly at the distance he saw it Monday. Monday, it will be remembered, was an extraordinarily clear day. Ross has another alibi besides this. He states that he had luncheon at the Y. M. C. A. So there!

Tough Luck

Billy Diers, of the William F. Lutz Company, says, "Put not your faith in mind readers." Diers and Hal McCullough went hunting down towards Escondido a week or two ago. Coming back, they lost three shotguns out of Billy's Studebaker. Not a trace of the guns could be found. One night, while the great Alexander was in town, Diers attended the performance. Diers wrote on a slip of paper, "Where is the gun I lost last Sunday?" Without an instant's hesitation, Alexander announced from the stage, "Your name is William Diers. You lost three guns, not one." Alexander having thus conclusively demonstrated his ability as a mind reader, Diers took it for granted that Alexander knew what he was talking about when he further announced that the guns were in the possession of one Holden at Escondido. The other day McCullough and Diers motored down to Escondido and made an exhaustive investigation. Nary a trace could they find of anyone by the name of Holden. Also, nary a trace could they find of the guns. Hence Diers' remark in regard to putting your trust in mind readers.

Ford's September Business

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 29.—During September, 1914, the Ford Motor Company sold and shipped 21,976 cars, or an average of 731 daily. Compared with September, 1913, this year shows an increase of 11,479 cars, while in comparison with last August the increase is 1338 cars. During the first two months of its new fiscal year beginning in August the Ford Company has thus shipped 42,614 cars.

By the Carload

Charlie Davis of the Ford Sales and Service Company is kept busy these days handling carload shipments of Ford cars which are being constantly received here. Monday two carloads of Fords were received and Wednesday one carload. Each car contained eight Fords.

Studebakers Sold

Fred Ross, of the William F. Lutz Company, reports the sale of three Studebakers within the past week. One, a Six, went to Mrs. A. J. Cook, of El Toro; another, a Roadster, went to Roy Vincent and the last, a Four, went to Len C. Ables, of Los Alamitos.

FORD'S NEW STUNT, MAKING WILDCATS CLIMB OAK TREES

Dick Shaw, in New Machine, Pulls Off a Fresh One in Live Oak Canyon

The Ford has put up a new stunt for these gasoline things on wheels to think about. Fred Ross will have to find something for his Studebaker to do besides climbing the steps of Elks' Hall, and George Kellogg's feat at Lemon Heights will have to take a back seat. The Ford has gone to treeing wildcats.

Dick Shaw of Trabuco is the man who performed the feat, the man who has set up a new stunt for the drivers of other machines to worry about.

This week Shaw bought a Ford. He bothered around Santa Ana long enough to learn to use the steering gear and other implements connected with making progress as near the right-hand side of the road as possible. Then he headed for home. The joy of motoring was upon the Trabuco. When he got to the top of the Trabuco grade and started down that most delightfully picturesque, smooth road that runs through Live Oak canyon to the Trabuco school house, he remembered that he had come thus far without accident. That surprised him, but that was not half of the surprise that awaited a certain animal roaming around in Live Oak canyon.

Shaw let her coast, and the Ford went whirling down the road without a sound. Suddenly one of those big curves that bring ever changing delights in scenery was reached. Shaw guided around it like a veteran, when—

Right there in the middle of the road was a wildcat. It looked bigger than a goat.

"Scat!" yelled Shaw.

The beast started to run, but the Ford got him—got him good and plenty and tramped on him. First the front wheels ran lengthwise of him and then the rear wheels went over him amidstships.

The maddest wildcat ever in the mountains made a noise like a tom, cat fighting another tomcat on the back fence. Shaw thought a tire had busted, or something. It didn't seem as though one wildcat could have made all that noise.

The wildcat did not stop to argue about it. He no sooner got rid of the rear wheel of Shaw's Ford than he up and ran at right angles to the road. He wanted no more racing with a Ford. A big oak tree was in his path. He went right up that oak tree. He did not believe there was an automobile in the world that would try to go after him.

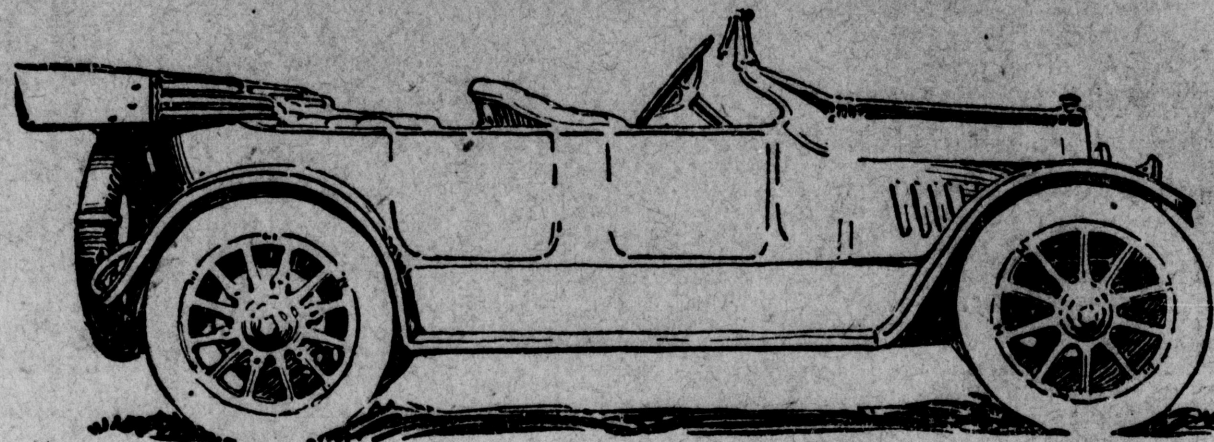

Shaw did not stop. He was having trouble enough driving a new machine without stopping to monkey with a mad wildcat. Besides, he did not know what kind of a menagerie was waiting for him around the next curve. Might be a mountain lion. But there wasn't and he got home.

N.B.—That wildcat has spread the fame of the Ford throughout the hills by this time. He says they are good things not to be run over by. He's glad it wasn't one of John Tubbs' trucks.

New 1915 Cole Little Six Has Arrived $1865

COLE

"THE STANDARDIZED CAR"

Building a Little Six is an engineering problem quite distinct from the problem of building a Four or Big Six. It differs from the Four and the Big Six in that it is new and in most instances, experimental; whereas practically all makers are familiar with what is required in Four and Big Six construction. To be satisfactory the Little Six should have full seven-passenger capacity—There are often times when you have enough friends along to justify. It should have at least 126-inch wheel base to insure sufficient room and easy riding. It should have a high-class full floating rear axle of known quality—Timken, for instance—to insure a safe return from a long trip. It should have no less than the famous Timken tapered roller bearings in all wheels to guard against accidents caused from wear and end thrust. It should have at least 35x4 1/2 tires mounted on Firestone quick detachable demountable rims.

It should have the very best hand-buffed long grain highly finished leather trimmings.

It should have a high speed, small bore, long stroke motor (3 1/2 x 5) to get highest efficiency, so constructed as to develop plenty of power and sufficient speed for any emergency. It should have long, resilient, self-lubricating springs, guaranteed for at least two years against breakage.

It should be equipped with mechanical tire pump on motor that pumps absolutely pure air; Delco electric cranking system, electric lights and horn, high-grade pantosote top with side curtains that you don't have to dig out from under the seat, and, of course, a full set of tools and jack.

The new Little Cole Six has all these necessary features. You expect, and you are entitled to, the same quality, power and appearance in a Little Six as in a Big Six Cole. Carload just arrived.

SQUIBLET'S

Quail a la Walker

What would you think of a dressing for broiled quail composed of a half glass of chopped and crushed garlic, the remainder of the glass filled with melted butter and topped off with about fifteen drops of lemon juice? If a man told you of a recipe like that, wouldn't you think him a rank barbarian? Victor Walker sprung just such a recipe on me yesterday. And smacked his lips reminiscently, too. He told me the formula early in the morning. Thinking that, as per his usual happy custom, he was kidding me, I went back later in the day and had him repeat the recipe to me. He did so, word for word, so he must have been giving it to me straight.

It seems that Walker, Tom Hill and Billy Smith had a quail feed the other night—a feed composed of birds broiled and served with the dressing aforementioned. Walker told me of this feed. In doing so, his eyes had a how-well-do-I-remember expression in them. The gentlemanly gourmand, the epicure, the sybarite, fairly shone from Walker's countenance as he related to me the manner in which the birds had been prepared and the manner in which they had been devoured.

I neglected to state one of the principal ingredients of the recipe for broiling quail a la Walker. He says that about a tablespoonful of chopped cow-feed (I found out later that by cow-feed Walker meant parsley) added to the dainty garlic-butter-and-lemon-juice mixture improves the compound tremendously.

Walker certainly is an artist. I used to think that his activities were confined mainly to fishing and chewing the rag, but lately I have changed my mind—he is as much a chef as he is a fisherman and tosser of words. This part of his quail recipe proves my assertion. He says broil the birds in olive oil and put in a little butter in order to brown the birds. The next time you get a mess of quail, try the Walker recipe.

'Poor Man's Court' Gives Its Justice Free to Labor

State Labor Bureau Vitalized by Governor Hiram W. Johnson—Wages Justly Due Workingmen Are Collected Without Cost—Dishonest Employment Agencies Put Out of Business—Safety Laws Rigidly Enforced

BY C. K. McCLATCHY, JR.

Garnered from his experience as a lawyer, Hiram W. Johnson before he became governor had definite knowledge of the evils and abuses to which labor was subjected in this state for the lack of simple and just laws giving unto the laboring man that justly his. The laws relating to labor passed during his term are the crystallization of the thought of the able labor leaders of California, tempered by the justice of Hiram W. Johnson, but enacted through his insistent demand that the workingmen of this state should be given just protection.

Little Done Before
Let any laboring man think what laws there were before Johnson became governor to enforce the collection of his wages, to protect him from accidents in buildings and to save him from overwork in hazardous occupations. Like the woman who worked, the laboring man of California had never been thought worthy of legislation until the crusade of Hiram W. Johnson placed humanity alongside property as one of the interests of government.

Labor Bureau Inactive
Nothing tells the story more eloquently than the regeneration of the State Bureau of Labor. Before 1911, that body was presided over by a politician who confined his duties to a collection of statistics upon labor, which so far as benefiting the laboring man might as well have been upon the health and number of rhinoceroses. That labor bureau never lifted a finger to enforce any of the few laws nor did a single thing to solve the practical problems or help the workingman in any way.

Appointed Efficient Man
Soon after assuming office, Governor Johnson appointed John P. McLaughlin, a labor leader of San Francisco, as Labor Commissioner, with instructions to do practical work in helping workingmen of the state with their problems and difficulties. That official took upon himself the enforcement of the labor laws of the state and those subsequently passed.

"Poor Man's Court"
The State Labor Bureau should be known as "The Poor Man's Court," for there he finds justice without cost. Dishonest employers endeavoring to beat him of wages find their schemes foiled; crooked employment agencies are made to return exorbitant fees; while for all the problems of the poor and needy there are able men ready and equipped to lend their services.

Before this was done unscrupulous employers persisted in holding out wages and cutting them below the agreed amount. The only recourse was the courts, with costly lawyers' fees and long delays, during which the laborer might live as best he could. Agencies for collections of wages existed in all the cities, which for a twenty or thirty percentage endeavored to collect the workingman's wages.

Wages Collected Free
Today no workingman need pay a cent for the collection of wages justly due him. A simple complaint to any of the labor offices in San Francisco, Los Angeles, Sacramento or San Diego instantly puts the machinery of the state in motion. Hearing is given to both employer and employee by one of the Deputy Labor Commissioners, and the wages justly due the workingman are rendered him, without a cent being diverted into the parasitical pockets of labor agents or lawyers.

Large Sums Collected
Up to December 30, 1913, 8277 wage complaints were filed with the labor bureau. These ranged from sixty cents to $300, and were filed by workers unable to pay lawyers' fees and needing the money for their daily necessities.

Since the first of January wider publicity has made the workers conversant with the work of the state, and consequently collections have greatly increased. During the month of June the Sacramento office alone collected $9,329.94 out of claims aggregating $12,409.88. Similar increases were made in all the other offices in the state.

Pay Check Graft Stopped
Formerly the pay check graft was in operation throughout California. Under it, a workingman was often forced to wait a month or even six months to obtain his wages. If the laborer insisted upon prompt payment he was forced to accept a discount of ten to twenty per cent.

The Labor Bureau had passed a law making it compulsory that laborers be paid immediately upon the ending of employment in coin or paper negotiable at a bank without discount. Today every employee in the state is paid regularly the full amount of his wages, and no employer dare shave those wages under penalty of prosecution by the State Labor Bureau.

bor Bureau.

Such a law no man can contend is but just and right, but no legislature until Johnson assumed office dared pass it.

Employment Agencies Regulated
Another of the abuses by which the workingmen of the state were defrauded of their wages was through the operations of dishonest employment agencies. These agencies made a habit of charging exorbitant fees, of accepting money for fictitious jobs, and refusing payment of fees where the jobs did not materialize. Another little game was to split profits with the foremen of section gangs and large companies of men for frequently discharging many men that the employment agency might earn fees in furnishing new ones.

Today the employment agencies of the state are licensed, the holding of their permit being dependent upon the decent conduct of their places. All fees must be returned if the workers do not obtain the promised jobs. Several successful prosecutions have been conducted against employment agencies having agreements with construction foremen for the quick discharge of workers, and this piracy is at an end.

Cannery Men Protected
The law compelling large employers of seasonal laborers to pay off the men in the presence of a Deputy Labor Commissioner if the workers so demand has wiped out the wholesale robbery of the employees of the Alaska canneries when discharged at San Francisco. Before 1911 these men would be paid only one-half the sums justly due them, and if not satisfied they could whistle for the rest. Their wages then for five or six months' work averaged below $50, but now average above $100.

Another abuse which the Labor Bureau has corrected is the stranding of road shows, leaving the girls of the company penniless in strange towns. Managers doing this have been prosecuted, and booking agencies have been notified they would also be held responsible.

Child Labor Eliminated
Prior to 1910, the Child Labor Laws under the Statute Books were being flagrantly violated throughout California. Children of tender years were being worked long hours in mercantile and industrial establishments. The laws were strengthened by several amendments in 1911, and all of them rigidly enforced.

The result was quickly appreciable in the increased attendance in the schools. During the year ending June 30, 1912, the first year of the enforcement of these laws, the attendance in the primary and grammar grades of the state increased 22,290, as compared with an increase of only 12,294 during the preceding year.

Another important work taken up by the Labor Bureau is the enforcement of the law prohibiting the working of miners and underground laborers more than eight hours a day.

Several prosecutions have been brought on that ground, forcing the mine owners to obey the law, the violation of which greatly increased the danger to the miners, owing to the strain and the unhealthfulness of working beneath the earth.

Done Economically, Too
The old Bureau which did nothing but collect useless statistics and sign salary warrants had seven persons on the salary roll, with a total appropriation annually of $23,000. Today twenty-four persons are employed and the appropriation is only $38,000. Such is part of the work of "the Poor Man's Court." Further space is needed for other phases of the work, but every workingman and employer of California should recognize the great good done in the prevention of labor abuses.

VETERANS ARE AGAIN GUESTS

They Are Entertained at Home of Mrs. Bishop; Orange News Notes

(By Staff Correspondent)
ORANGE, Oct. 29.—Twenty-five veterans of the Soldiers' Home at Sawtelle were the guests of Mrs. Della F. Bishop at her beautiful home on Fairhaven avenue yesterday at the third annual dinner to which the aged defenders of the nation have been invited at this hospitable home.

The dinner to the Sawtelle veterans was conceived by Mrs. Bishop three years ago. The hostess is department inspector of the Daughters of Veterans and delights to honor the old soldiers. At her first dinner, no less than 99 of them were present. Advancing age prevents many who first attended from coming now but such as are able to make the trip enjoy it to the full. In addition to the veterans, ten members of Anna Ella Carroll Tent, Daughters of Veterans of Sawtelle were present.

Dinner was served on the wide screen porch of the Bishop home, decorated lavishly with flags and flowers. All of the guests were appreciative of the gracious hospitality and the generous dinner. Mrs. Bishop was assisted in entertaining by her sister, Mrs. J. F. Donovan and Mrs. Alfred Leech.

Before leaving for home, the guests presented Mrs. Bishop with a cut-glass bowl in appreciation of a most pleasant entertainment.

Miss Laura Ott was hostess at a pretty Halloween affair at her home on South Center street last evening at which a number of her friends were present.

The house was attractively decorated in orange and black, sunflowers being effectively used in the scheme. The guests were entertained by a variety of games. One, a "ghost game," was won by Lydia Gibbard, and Mrs. Harry Putnam won the word building contest.

Fortunes were found for all the guests in nutshells. Refreshments were served, the hostess being assisted by Marguerite Peers and Lela Stevenson.

THE OFFICE OF SUPERIOR JUDGE IS NATURALL AND LEGALLY NONPARTISAN

R. Y. WILLIAMS

Although a strong party man and for many years a leader of his own party R. Y. Williams is not running for Superior Judge as a partisan. Under the present state election law, all county offices are non-partisan. Even before the present law was passed, there was an unwritten law, very generally observed by the electorate, making judicial office non-partisan.

The reason for the unwritten law, and for the present statute, is that through non-partisan voting a better average of ability is secured and maintained in the public service.

Mr. Williams has always recognized the value of the non-partisan spirit in judicial elections, and heartily approves the general non-partisan statute in all county elections. Some of his strongest support in his present race comes from men and women of other parties than his own, and is based upon his special fitness for Superior Judge.

A vote for R. Y. Williams for Superior Judge will be a vote for a man who embodies in large measure every element of strength and fitness that can be brought to that high office.

The invited guests were Bertha, Mabel and May Peterkin, Ruth Parker, Carrie Bowen, Lydia Gibbard, Mrs. Floyd Watson, Eva Fern, Mabel Haynes, Ella Robertson, May Robertson, Mrs. Harry Putnam, Frances Richards, Marjory Lucas.

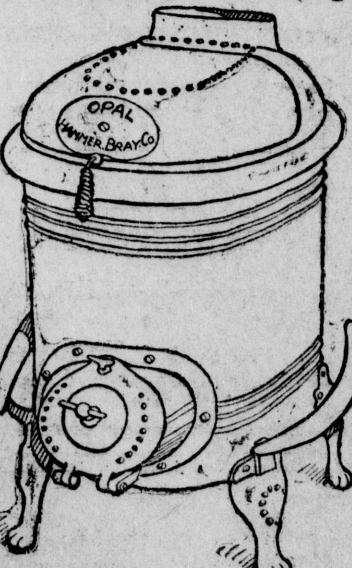

The Modern Priscillas of Villa Park were delightfully entertained by Mrs. Amy Billingsley at the Ray Billingsley home yesterday. The house was beautifully decorated with roses. The club spent the afternoon in the usual occupation, embroidering, and refreshments consisting of ice cream, cake, candy and salted peanuts were served. The out-of-town guests of the club were Mrs. Bent and Mrs. Berry of Santa Ana, Mrs. Harwood of Los Angeles, and the club members present were Mrs. Clara DeLong, Mrs. Anna Knuth, Mrs. Myrtle Holditch, Miss Margaret Holditch, Mrs. May Handy, Mrs. Queenie Wallace, Mrs. Blanche Porter.

A Halloween and birthday party combined was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Rimer at McPherson last evening. The guests, in their ghostly attire of sheets and pillowcases, were from Santa Ana, Orange and Artesia.

The occasion was Mr. Rimer's birthday. Decorations consisted of black cats, owls, witches and other Halloween symbols. The evening was pleasantly spent at games and refreshments were served.

The guests were Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Huff of Orange, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Elliot, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller, Mr.

IF CHILD IS CROSS, FEVERISH OR SICK

Look Mother! If Tongue is Coated Give "California Syrup of Figs"

Children love this "fruit laxative," and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely. A child simply will not stop playing, to empty the bowels, and the result is, they become tightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour, their little one becomes cross, half-sick, feverish, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally. Breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach-ache or diarrhoea. Listen, Mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs" because it is perfectly harmless; children love it, and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."—Refuse any other kind with contempt.—Advertisement.

GARDEN GROVE

MRS. DOZIER THE WINNER

GARDEN GROVE, Oct. 30.—One of the most interesting and profitable oratorical contests ever held in Garden Grove was given before a crowded house at the M. E. Church Wednesday evening. The contestants were all residents of Garden Grove and vicinity and were all married. Each contestant wore a silver medal won in previous oratorical work. There was not a hitch in the program from beginning to end, each contestant doing so well that it was the unanimous wish of the congregation that all might be awarded a gold medal, but inasmuch as there was only one gold trophy to be given, the judges had to figure fine enough to give it to one contestant. Mrs. Dozier won, Mrs. W. B. Harper receiving second place. The other contestants were Mrs. Jentges, Mrs. McLean and Mr. C. Holt. The music of the evening was much appreciated, being furnished by a male quartet consisting of W. D. Junkin, Ruel Reid, Prof. Steven Fitz and Mr. Vogel. Irvine F. German rendered a violin solo, with Mrs. J. T. MacFreder presiding at the piano. The medal was presented by Rev. W. F. Wardle of Westminster, after very appropriate remarks.

The Cypress W. C. T. U. will give a silver medal contest at the Centralia school house Monday night, November 2, at 7:30. The names of the contestants are Miss Iva Cameron, Cypress; Miss Louise Tub Keman, Cypress; Miss Beryl Morgan, Cypress; Miss Holman, Los Angeles; Miss Mina Harper and Miss Mildred Spain, Garden Grove. The Magnolia Quartet and the Lucas sisters of Cypress will furnish the music. Admission, 15 and 10 cents.

Mr. Rollie Meekum of Berrydale received a pleasant surprise from about twenty of his friends Wednesday evening, October 28, the occasion being his nineteenth birthday. After the usual program of games, music, etc., delicious refreshments were served. At a late hour the guests dispersed, leaving the gentleman of honor their best wishes for many happy returns of the day.

The home of Miss Laura Morrell was the scene of a very happy and pleasant gathering. The following is the form of the invitations issued: "It is quite eighteen years since a wee tiny girl

Was brought to William Morrill and wife;

In spite of it being so near Halloween,

She has managed to hold onto life;

So come and we will give her a jolly surprise;

Don't leave us, we pray, in the lurch;

Wednesday, twenty-eighth, at seven-thirty.

We'll go to her home from the church."

The party consisted of members of four young people's classes of the Methodist Episcopal Church, thirty-eight in all. Among the many amusements of the evening, parlor baseball seemed to be the most popular. The writer cannot imagine how baseball can be played in the parlor, but we haven't heard of any windows being broken, but judging from the enthusiasm of the young people we would guess that many sides ached with laughter during the game. After refreshments were served and congratulations of all extended to their hostess the guests returned with merry hearts to their homes.

S. C. Hartrant, Independent Dry

candidate for assemblyman, will speak at the Y. M. C. A. building at Garden Grove this (Friday) evening, at 7:30 o'clock. Everybody welcome.

Mr. H. C. Stone, who left Garden Grove about three years ago for Oregon and last year returned to California and has been living in Watts since that time, has recently moved his family back to the Grove.

Rev. G. A. Anderson will visit friends in Whittier over Sunday.

George Harper, who is attending the deaf department of the Sixteenth Street School in Los Angeles, going back and forth each day, will remain in the city during the winter months.

Miss Peck of Glendale was a visitor Saturday and Sunday with Rev. and Mrs. Hull.

Mr. Goodwin, who has recently bought land east of the Grove, is laying the foundation for a good house on the same. Mr. J. Steele has the contract.

Rev. John Ward will have charge of the services at the Free Methodist Church Sunday in the absence of the pastor, Rev. G. A. Anderson.

Prof. Gustlin was a visitor in Garden Grove Thursday with a view to making arrangements for an entertainment to be given for the benefit of the Y. M. C. A. of Garden Grove in the near future.

Mrs. L. Waltz returned Sunday from Pasadena, where she had been visiting her sister for two of three days.

Mrs. Crane returned Sunday evening from Los Angeles, where she has been visiting relatives for the past two weeks.

Mr. Baldwin and family motored down from Ocean Park the first of the week to spend a day with Mrs. Baldwin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Price.

THE COST OF POLITICS

Here and there a candidate may win an election at the cost of a few postage stamps. But there are many circles in which such Spartan virtue is not popular. There are the hungry faithful, who for many years have drilled the voters. These must have their customary perquisites, otherwise their party fervor may suffer a sudden decline.

Perhaps the politicians take their service too seriously. Perhaps the country could get along if there was less machinery to be operated and paid for.

In the case of carriages to carry infirm voters to the polls, the infirmity giving rise to this expense is often laziness. One of the big expenses is the cost of paid workers to canvass the voters. Formerly men would go out and do that work for nothing. "They took their coats off," as the jolly phrase was. With a taste for politics there was nothing they liked better than tramping up and down the town and arousing the laggards.

Some of that gratuitous work is done now. But more often it must all be paid for. It offers a business opportunity to very mediocre men. Knots of voters in various hangouts are supposed to act on their suggestions. Their "influence" is offered for sale and bought. On the surface it is a legitimate expense for time actually taken; really it is stock in trade offered to the highest bidder.

Does a voter add anything of value to the electoral verdict if he has to be dragged to the polls, or if he casts what is practically a vote by proxy? Too many of these expenses simply offset each other. If one party does it, the other must. The candidate and his friends are assessed, and no one but the camp followers is the better off. Good old fashioned rallies and the newspapers furnish the legitimate means of educating the voters. Other expenses only make it easier for the man with a barrel to carry off the prize.

CARELESS LAWMAKING

The state and national legislatures. Senator Root told the American Bar Association the past week, passed 62, 014 laws during the past five years. Mr. Root made a plea for more careful work drafting laws, and for less of what he called "sloppy legislation."

The writer had occasion some time ago to consult the statute book of one of the states, which required 1800 pages to record its new laws for the year 1913. The statute book of the same state for the year 1880 included only 340 pages. So grows the crop of laws. While many foolish acts are passed, still new interests have forced new enactments. The legislatures of 1880 didn't have to spend any time regulating the speed of automobiles, nor charges of telephone companies.

A few years ago a certain United States senator was overheard talking with great vehemence. "When the people rise in their might and demand a law of this kind," he remarked, concerning the agitation for a certain statute, "it is useless to oppose them."

"But what will such a law amount to," inquired a bystander.

"Nothing whatever," replied the senator. "The people will then turn their attention to something else, and forget all about it."

Many laws are so carelessly drawn that there is a lawsuit in every sentence, due to indefiniteness. The man who wrote them could not get a job as a newspaper reporter, until he had learned to write with more precision. If the people who draft laws could realize it, any kind of writing seems far more lucid if the sentences are made short. Lawyers' minds may not work that way. But the average business man becomes hopelessly tangled by long succession of phrases, com-

LIQUOR MEN ARE SCARED

The rising tide of sentiment against the liquor traffic in the Pacific states is causing shivers in the offices of eastern liquor corporations. Bonfort's Wine and Spirit Circular of October 10 has this to say:

"We do not think there will be much trading, insofar as the jobbing trade is concerned, until after the November elections. Dealers will want to see the returns from the various states that are to vote on prohibition in November before they will exhibit any desire to further anticipate their wants.

"The result of the election in Virginia has naturally had the effect of creating apprehension that our leaders in Oregon, Washington and Colorado may be too sanguine, and may lose some or all of these states by failing to do all the things that are essential to success."

Thousands of street car employees throughout the state were quick to see wherein the proposed universal eight-hour law would work to their disadvantage and they are all united in opposing the measure. In fact all classes of labor who have given the eight-hour law their earnest consideration have concluded that the plan is impracticable, inoperative and fruitful of no gain to employers or employees concerned.

ONE-MINUTE INTERVIEWS

What People Are Talking About

H. D. Connell: "Advertising in the Register certainly pays," said H. D. Connell of the Turner Shoe Company. "A few days ago we ran a small space in two issues of the Register, advertising our one dollar sale of ladies' shoes and as a direct result, seventy-two pairs of those shoes were sold the first day besides the shoes not on special sale for this sale. We did no advertising other than what was run in the Register. Of course we were giving some very unusual values, but we were given convincing proof that people not only read our advertising, but responded to it. We still have a number of calls daily for the $1.00 shoes, but our stock of them at the present rate will soon be exhausted."

C. M. McCain: "Speaking of advertising," said C. M. McCain, owner of the horse and mule market, corner of Second and Main streets, "I must tell you about the quick action I got on that little want ad. I ran in the Register the first of the week. You may remember I advertised for sale ten big mules. Well, the next day a Japanese beet grower from up Anaheim way came in and bought the ten mules and also bought ten horses. The total amount paid for the twenty animals was $5750. The same day I sold twelve head of stock to other parties, making a total of thirty-two for the day. I think that is going some."

Will the Electors of Other Parties Vote for Johnson?

(Answer by D. G. Cole, Republican, Capitalist and Farmer)

Santa Ana, Cal., Oct. 26, 1914.

John Beatty, President Johnson-Eshleman Club.

In answer to your inquiry, "Will others than Progressives vote for Johnson?"

Yes, plenty of them, I have been a Republican forty years and will vote for Johnson.

Four years ago we elected Johnson on the one promise: That he would put the S. P. out of California politics. He kept the promise.

A year later he was criticised by leading attorneys, including President Taft, for signing the recall bill. He went before the people asking their endorsement. Specializing on the two bills "Recall" and "Utility Law," we said he was right. Those two great measures are incorporated in our laws, and we are satisfied.

The great sin of Johnson seems to be, that he could not endorse a presidential nomination obtained through fraud. Nearly five million REPUBLICANS voted for him for Vice-President—good proof there were others like him.

Johnson has been Governor nearly four years and is ready for the verdict. And, if I am not mistaken, on November 3rd, the voters of California will pronounce that good old verdict, "Well done," by rolling up the biggest majority for Johnson ever accorded a California governor.

Yours for honest politics,

D. G. COLE.

(Answer by N. J. Warner, Republican, of Wells & Warner, a Leading Real Estate Firm of Santa Ana)

Santa Ana, Cal., Oct. 23, 1914.

Mr. John Beatty,

President Johnson-Eshleman Club.

My Dear Sir:—I am a Republican and have always voted for the Grand Old Party. But this year I will vote for Hiram W. Johnson and John M. Eshleman, the men who have carried out all their pledges and given the state an administration that every citizen should be proud of. In my opinion a vote against Johnson is a vote against Good Government and a return to old conditions. I cannot believe that the citizens of this state will vote against the best governor California has ever had. Johnson has made good. Vote to keep him in Sacramento.

N. J. WARNER.

Just One More Liquor Fake

The liquor men are stating in flaming paid advertisements in the newspapers that the population of Kansas has "fallen off nearly twenty thousand."

Here is the population of Kansas at each census since the beginning of the state: 1860, 107,206; 1870, 364,399; 1880, 996,096; 1890, 1,427,096; 1900, 1,470,495; 1910, 1,690,949. Just one more liquor fake, that's all.

AMUSEMENTS

Salisbury's Fish and Game Pictures

An offering which should be in the highest degree acceptable to patrons of the "movies" will soon appear in Santa Ana. Salisbury's Fish and Game Pictures are the "something different" which it is often so hard to find.

As a matter of fact, the Educational Film Company has here assembled a series of films which is absolutely unique. The spectator is taken into marsh, field, and mountain, and there is shown the wonders and beauties of the home life of wild birds of California and Oregon.

The photography is as near to the perfect as human skill can attain. The scenic settings are well chosen, and the action is the real thing.

You will never see anything like it again. The pictures are recommended by State Fish and Game Commission and by the California Associated Charities for the Conservation of Wild Life.

The pictures of the home-life of White Pelican and Great Blue Heron alone are more than worth the price of admission.

Friday and Saturday nights, Oct. 30 and 31. Special Saturday matinee Oct. 31.

Clune's Popular Play House

J. M. Russell, resident manager of Clune's Santa Ana Theater has put into effect the winter schedule of afternoon and evening shows by starting yesterday with a matinee at 2:30 p. m., and two evening performances at 7 and 9 o'clock.

The bill yesterday and today, with which he ushered in the change, was exceptionally good, one film showing the Katsuro river in Japan, with rafting methods pursued by our little yellow brothers; another, entitled, Col. Heezaliar, an animated cartoon showing the absurd effects of depicting literary stories of adventure as told by a retired traveler, who is not too particular regarding the truth.

Concerning the Mary Pickford film, "Regan's Daughter," it is safe to say it is one of the best ever shown in this city and alone would be considered value received for the price of admission.

The female quartet found popular favor and one encore was not sufficient to satisfy the audience for it is rarely that more perfect harmony will be heard from musicians of like attractiveness.

The same bill tonight and the change for Saturday and Sunday will include "The Reward of Thrift," a two-part Vitagraph drama, which comes heralded as an eastern success.

"The Reward of Thrift"

The lesson of thrift, putting aside for a rainy day, is a hard one to teach, and to learn. See "The Reward of Thrift" as presented at Clune's, Saturday and Sunday, and you will be convinced of the advisability, the wisdom of the man who won it and its benefits to his wife and family. You will furthermore be convinced that its influence is far reaching.

Tonight and tomorrow the most talked of play in America, "The Virginian," featuring the celebrated actor, Dustin Farnum, will be the strong drawing card at the Temple Theater, Sunday, only, "John Barleycorn," the story of Jack London's life, will be seen.

NOTES ARE BURNED

Odd Fellows Celebrate Thirtieth Anniversary of Their Lodge Here

The Odd Fellows of Santa Ana have had many a big time in the last thirty-nine years. Last night's celebration goes down with the best of them.

The occasion was the thirty-ninth anniversary of the institution of the lodge, and one of the features was the burning of $15,200 receipted notes issued by the lodge in part payment for its building on Main street. W. B. Tedford, treasurer of the building committee, and C. S. Hubbard, district deputy grand master, had charge of the note-burning. Tedford's business sagacity had a good deal to do with pulling through the payments. The building was put up in 1905-6, representing with the lot an investment of $20,000. The notes were lighted last night at an alcohol lamp and were dropped into a tin box to burn. It is a matter of pride that the notes were paid and burned before they were finally due, there being yet over a year's leeway for their payment.

Last night's celebration was started with a big 7 o'clock banquet, to which 250 people sat down. Music by the orchestra composed of J. W. and Chas. Mitchell and J. R. McMurdo, was followed by the reading of the history of the lodge by Chas. Tibbetts. Then came some highly appreciated songs by Joseph Ryan, C. P. Mattern, Claude Wagner, C. C. Cozad, Thomas Shelden and Dryer.

A poem, full of witty stanzas concerning the officers of the lodge, written by George Wilkins, was recited by Chas. Tibbetts. After the burning of the notes came the display of the new robes bought by the lodge. A cornet solo by Matthews was much enjoyed, as was a comedy stunt, "Buck Fanshawe's Funeral," by C. S. Shaw and W. G. Gould.

An address was given by Mr. Avis of Riverside, grand representative of the sovereign grand lodge. A good deal of interest centered around reminiscences given by W. K. Robinson, who was initiated into the lodge the night it was instituted, October 30, 1875. Of the charter members of the lodge in good standing only two are alive, G. W. and Royal Freeman.

SIMPLY BREATHE IT

That's the Way You Use Hyomei, the Safe Catarrh Remedy

The most pleasant, easiest, harmless, and the really sensible method for the cure of catarrh is Hyomei, which can be had from any drug store. Just put twenty drops of the liquid in the small inhaler that comes with every complete outfit—then breathe it. A few minutes' use almost instantly clears the head and stops that annoying sniffing.

When using Hyomei every particle of air that enters the breathing organs is charged with an antiseptic, healing balsam that destroys the catarrh germs, stops the unclean discharges from the nose, relieves the irritation and quickly heals the sore and inflamed tissues. The first day's use of Hyomei will show a decided improvement, no matter how distressing the trouble.

Catarrh, which usually begins with a neglected cold, often becomes a very serious ailment, so don't wait, but start using Hyomei today—it is inexpensive and Rowley Drug Co. always sell it on the "No-cure-no-pay" plan.—Advertisement.

DRY FEDERATION BUSY

Travel to Newport Beach
Where Interesting Program is Given

On Friday night a number of members of the Dry Federation of Tustin joined by a number of others similarly minded and hailing from El Modena, making about forty in all, had a delightful automobile trip to Newport Beach, where they held a meeting in the interest of "California Dry."

A program of songs by the quartettes from both places, violin, piano and vocal music and duets was given, all bearing of course upon the important question of prohibition. The last number on the program was the dialogue "Saloon License or the Wash-tub, Which?" The new school house auditorium was pretty well filled and the Newport people who were there were very appreciative.

One of the enjoyable numbers given which was entirely new was the recitation of an original poem by Mrs. P. H. Ebel:

"The Call to Arms"
Pin on the bow of ribbon white,
Come join the glorious fray,
Sin's evil forces put to flight
That Good may win the day.

Too long our land of fruit and flowers
Has felt Rum's grip of steel,
Too long this curse the law empowers
Has ground her 'neath its heel.

God gave us fruits of vine and tree
For strength of body, mental gain,
He never meant their juice should be Distilled to poison heart and brain.

The ca. "to arms!" rings forth this year,
Down with King Rum the battle cry.
Our banner bears these words of cheer:
"Nineteen Fourteen California Dry!"

Oh, Temperance men arise, the fight is on!
Get in the ranks and strive with might
and main;
And women, use the franchise you've so lately won—
Then victory will crown this Dry Campaign.

THE REASONS WHY

There are few of us who can be excused on the plea of ignorance regarding Prohibition in the coming election. We have not been lacking in teachers of the issue at stake justifies a repetition of the reasons why.

The majority of us have not the time nor the opportunity to investigate the subject for ourselves and are glad to consider the opinions and testimonies of those who have been in positions to investigate thoroughly.

In the prize essay written by A.
McIntyre of Huntington Beach on "Why the Voters of the State Should Support the Prohibition Amendment to the State Constitution," he has made an exhaustive study of the opinions of those who are capable of judging and some of these are judges of courts, and jailers whose occupations will largely be gone when the traffic goes. He also gives the statistics of towns and cities and states that have tried abolishing the traffic. He classifies his deductions as follows:

The amendment should be passed;
first, because of the inherent harmfulness of the beverage liquor traffic;
second, because of the economic wastefulness; third, because of the crime-producing tendencies of the traffic; and fourth, because the money that the traffic costs should be diverted into helpful and beneficial channels.

All who wish to be informed on the latest reports of modern research on this subject should read this essay,
published in the October and November numbers of "The Issue."

An opportunity is here afforded to have laid before you the deductions and opinions of good thinkers and prominent men who are conceded to be unbiased.

Mr. and Mrs. Shannon have made many friends during their stay in wishes go with them to their new home. They were ready to go to Pen-rin several weeks ago, but have delayed their going in order to save the three votes in their family for California Dry. They will now leave on Tuesday or Wednesday.

They desire to thank the people here for kindness and friendliness shown them both in the church and the people outside.

FIFTEEN CENTS A PLATE

Tustin Economics Ladies Have Delectable Menu at Small Price

The members of the Tustin Household Economics section held their semi-annual luncheon meeting at the beautiful new home of Mrs. E. M. Nealey Wednesday afternoon. On these occasions, one-half of the section entertains the other half at luncheon, and hence there is considerable good-natured rivalry as to results.

A color scheme of yellow and brown was carried out in house decorations yesterday as well as in the table appointments.

As the result of much thought and skill on the part of the entertainers at 1 o'clock a deliciously appetizing and nourishing five-course luncheon was served at the surprisingly low cost of 15 cents a plate.

Odd little pumpkinhead place cards, hand-painted in brown and yellow and tied with the same colored ribbon,
were the work of Miss Minnie C.
Childs. The yellow and brown motif was carried through the five courses.
The first course was diced casaba,
then came an appetizing meat loaf,
sweet potatoes, creamed carrots,
bread and butter, followed by the serving of tomatoes with salad dressing and nut bread, the dessert being whipped cream and sponge cake, with hot coffee and mints at the last. The ladies were proud to say that the luncheon cost just $1.80 for twelve.

Among the pleasant features of the afternoon was an interesting discussion of the coming election and the reception of Mrs. J. E. Paul as a new member.

The ladies present were Mrs. J. E.
Cranston, Mrs. Cood Adams, Mrs. Byron Johnson, Mrs. W. L. Leiby, Mrs.
H. Romer, Mrs. B. H. Sharpless, Mrs.
S. W. Stanley, Mrs. Fred Preble, Mrs.
J. E. Paul, Mrs. E. M. Nealey and Miss
Minnie C. Childs.

SOCIETY AND CLUBS

The B. D. Club

The young ladies' embroidery club, now known as the B. D. Club, was charmingly entertained Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Mabel Logan.

To the reception room and parlor
of her home beautiful white chrysanthemums lent their charm and these were offset by the green of feathery ferns.

Each member, of course, was at work on some very dear piece of needle work. Christmas is coming and there are so many things in this line which one wants to accomplish. Music and conversation also filled the feet-ing hours.

Later in the afternoon when the guests were invited to the dining room a typical Halloween scene greeted them. Lacy greenery and an abundant of yellow chrysanthemums enveloped the chandelier and the lights could only be seen through the yellow eyes and mouths of black witches faces.

The feathery green trailed down to the table like cobwebs. The snowy cloth was strewn with autumn leaves.
The guests were seated by means of place cards on which were tiny pumpkin heads in a setting of autumn colors. (These were hand-painted by Miss Childs.)

A glow of yellow coloring pervaded
the dining room. A pretty ornamentation for the table were little yellow baskets filled with sugared walnut meats.

It is needless to say that the luncheon was enjoyable to Misses Gertrude Utt, Clara Thorman, Louise Cotant, Mabel Rhiehl. Mrs. Chas. Freeman of Heber was a guest of the club.

The hostess called for each of her friends in her comfortable automobile and returned them to their homes at the close of the delightful afternoon.

Coreopsis Club

A meeting of the Coreopsis Club was held at the home of Mrs. J. D.
Howes Wednesday afternoon.

Rich yellow and white chrysanthemums lent their beauty to the rooms of the Howes home on this occasion and were admired specially by the ladies as they arrived.

In this busy circle of friends no time is lost as the happy afternoon hours fly. Opinions about household matters of importance, helpful recipes and experiences are interchanged while fingers are busy growing more and more skillful in embroidery.

The younger members of the club were musically inclined Wednesday afternoon and they contributed instumental pieces and songs to the entertainment of all.

Refreshments consisting of brick ice cream, several kinds of delicious cake and fruit punch were served by the hostess.

The party comprised Mrs. C. O.
Arts, Mrs. Fenlon Matthews, Mrs.
Frank Stearns, Mrs. Elsworth Mount,
Mrs. J. H. Stearns, Mrs. Ed Smith,
Mrs. Harry Matthews, Mrs. Hart and Mrs. Howes, Misses Eva Stearns and Ethel Alderman.

Birthday Dinner

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Collar on last Sunday was given a dinner in honor of the birthdays of their son, Forrest, and granddaughter, Blanche Horton. The decorations were of Halloween nature.
Those present besides the host and hostess were Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Collar and daughter Beth, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Horton and baby, and daughter Blanche, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Mayer, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Stafford and daughter Evelyn, and Mr. Ralph Collar.

Dinner Party

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Marcey, Miss
May Schneider of Fillmore, Miss Clara Thorman and Mrs. Alice Freeman were entertained at dinner last Monday evening by Miss Inez Punney.

After dinner the party spent the remainder of the evening at the Temple Theater in Santa Ana.

This same party had met with a cor-

to an oversight, however, no special person had been commissioned to open

Dry Federation Meeting

The Tustin Dry Federation held a meeting at the Presbyterian church on Tuesday night.

The young people of the Y. P. B.
had prepared a splendid program and the older people had nothing to do but to enjoy it.

A choir of girls and young men sang two songs in opening the meeting. In the reading of the first Psalm by the chairman, Mr. Marchant, the audience joined in repeating the same as he read, and prayer was offered by A. E.
Bennett. This was followed by the program:

Piano piece Miss Grace Hatfield
Reading Miss Dorothy Utt
Song The Mixed Quartet
Piano piece Miss Mildred Marchant
Duet Miss Jessie Rawlings,
Miss Margaret Tingley

Reading Miss Ruth Rawlings
Piano piece Miss Edith Higgins
Song The Mixed Quartet
Song Choir

After the program was finished the chairman asked for any matters of business to be brought before the meeting. A number of questions were asked about the rules and regulations of voting on election day.

A meeting for all who are willing to assist at the Dry Federation headquarters on election day was appointed to be held at the home of C.
A. Miller Saturday night at 7:30. Mr.
Miller stated that if there were any who would like to come to this meeting, but had no conveyance, he would be glad to have them telephone him to that effect and he would see that they were brought to the meeting.

Workers will be needed at the Dry Federation headquarters on election day, both men and women.

The meeting adjourned after some interesting discussions of election methods.

Dinner Party

Mrs. W. S. Suddaby and Mrs. Chas.
Sauer entertained a few friends at dinner on Wednesday evening at Mrs. Sauer's beautiful new bungalow home on Second and D streets.

Handsome chrysanthemums were used in decorations and pumpkin faces lighted with candles in unexpected corners were the Halloween suggestions used.

A regular three-course dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock.

Berean Bible Class

The regular monthly business and social meeting of the Berean Bible class of the Presbyterian church will be held next Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Frank Logan.

Ladies' Aid Society

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Presbyterian church held an all-day meeting last Friday at the church, giving a faithful day's work to the task of making five beautiful comforts.

At the noon hour they were all invited to the home of the president, Mrs. S. E. Tingley, and the luncheon which each lady had brought was temptingly spread and supplemented with delicious hot coffee.

On next Friday afternoon, November 6, there will be a regular business meeting of the Aid Society.

They will be entertained by Mrs. P.
H. Ebel and Mrs. John Dryer at the home of Mrs. Ebel.

School Closed

The Tustin school has been closed
since Monday of this week on account of several cases which have been pronounced scarlet fever by the health officer.

They were all so exceedingly mild that it was not recognized at first as being scarlet fever, but the doctor decided that he had discovered suspicious symptoms. It was feared that others had been exposed and it was thought best to close the school for a short time. The school house has been thoroughly fumigated and the families quarantined. The three cases are about well.

(AUTHORIZED PUBLICITY)

This space has been secured in the Register for the purpose of telling voters a little more about W. H. Thomas, a candidate for superior judge of Orange County. He is a man who has absolutely nothing to hide. He acts upon his judgments, and for that reason he has made a good judge. He decides cases according to the facts and the law, and no amount of criticism can change him, if he is sure he is right.

TENDING STRICTLY TO BUSINESS HE IS AN IDEAL JUDGE

SEEKING OFFICE IN WHICH HE MADE GOOD

Statements From Old Friends
Show the Kind of Man
W. H. Thomas Is

It takes a man of good judgment to make a good judge. He ought to be a man of good common sense, for after all common sense is the greatest asset in the make-up of a judge.

Judge Thomas is a man of good judgment. He is a man with lots of common sense.

Those who have watched Judge Thomas' career during the year that he has been on the bench cannot help feeling that he has more than made good. He has proven himself to be an exceptionally hard-working jurist. He digs to the bottom of things.

A Hard Worker

One thing is certain. Judge Thomas does not spare himself. If there is work to be done, he does it. If a lawyer wants to start trying a case all he has to do is to name the hour. No hour is too early, and no session can run too late to stump him. He is always on hand, ready to accommodate attorneys and the public. Long hours, early hours and late hours have no terrors for him. He says that those having business in court are entitled to his services whenever they want them.

Can Weigh Evidence

He is a good judge of human nature, and that is an asset worth mentioning. It helps a lot when it comes to weighing evidence, as well as to weighing arguments of attorneys.

Judge Thomas has been commended for his fairness during trials. At the end of the long, difficult Yorba Linda water case, attorneys on both sides in open court heartily assured him that they had never received better or fairer treatment at the hands of any judge. Both sides said that they had found him not only fair in his decisions, but they also thought right.

The people are entitled to know as much as possible concerning the various candidates. Orange county has grown so large that it is impossible for a candidate to see any large proportion of the voters. For that reason, it is deemed best that this information concerning Judge Thomas be given to the public through the columns of this paper. It is only fair to Judge Thomas that the letters printed herewith be read by the voters. If the voters know what kind of a man Judge Thomas is and decide against him, he will have nothing to say. If they do not know what kind of a man he is, the situation is fair neither to him nor to the voters.

W. H. Thomas as Judge of the Juvenile Court

Judge Thomas is the juvenile judge of Orange County.

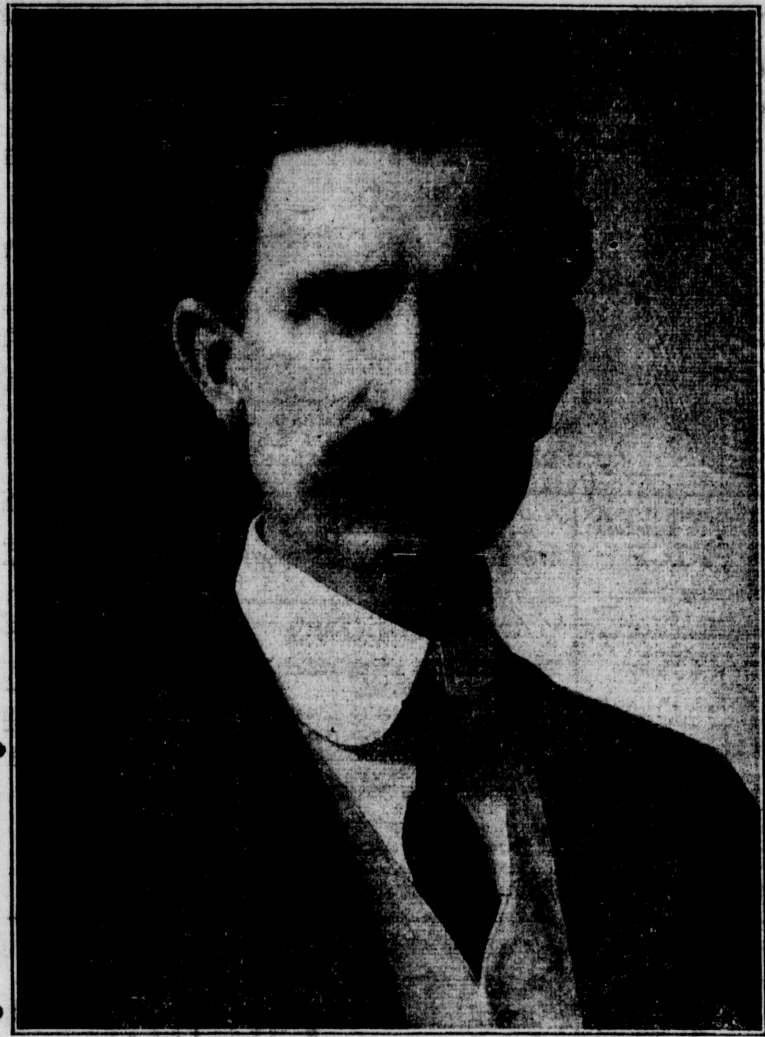

Among the delinquent and dependent children who have come under his direction he has done a great deal of good.

He talks to wayward children as a father to a son or a daughter. He makes them know that he wants to help them, and that they can depend upon him to help them.

He tries to get at the inside of things, to get upon a friendly basis with his charges so that he can trust them and they him. His methods have produced great results.

The work of the juvenile court is of great importance. Few people realize how much real genuine good has been accomplished by the juvenile corrective system in this county. Judge Thomas is at its head. It is a department of public work of which little is said, but its results are far-reaching.

By disposition and a desire to be of substantial good in the upbuilding of the characters of wayward youths, Judge Thomas is the right man in the right place.

W. H. Thomas, Judge of the Superior Court of Orange County, for which office he is a candidate. Election, November 3rd.

TREASURER OF THE U. S. IS QUOTED

The following letter is from a man who is a Democrat, who for six years was governor of North Dakota, and who is now Treasurer of the United States:

Treasury Department,
Washington, D. C.,
May 26, 1913.

Hon. Hiram W. Johnson,
Governor of the State of California.

My Dear Governor:—I was personally acquainted with Hon. W. H. Thomas during all the years that he practiced law in the state of North Dakota. I knew him as a lawyer personally in the courts, and as a man and citizen outside the courtroom. He was always on the moral side of every question. He is painstaking and honest in his profession, and a lawyer of very good ability.

Very sincerely yours,
JOHN BURKE.

FEARLESS BEYOND THE REACH OF ANY KIND OF INFLUENCE

House of Representatives
Legislative Assembly, 1913.
Leeds, N. D., May 22, 1913.

Hon. Hiram W. Johnson,
Sacramento, California.

Dear Sir: I take the liberty of writing you in regard to the candidacy of Mr. W. H. Thomas for appointment to the office of Superior Court judge in Orange county, California.

It was my pleasure and privilege to be associated with Mr. Thomas in the practice of law in this city for a number of years. As a lawyer Mr. Thomas was at all times careful, painstaking and energetic and gained the reputation of being an attorney whose integrity was absolutely beyond question and as being one who placed the principles of justice above the petty technicalities of the law. Naturally he was held in the very highest esteem, not only by the bench and bar, but by the people who knew him, as well.

For two years Mr. Thomas acted as state's attorney of Benson county, declining re-election. During his incumbency Mr. Thomas made a record in enforcing the prohibition law and in prosecuting wrong-doers generally, which stands unequalled in the history of this county and as a result of his activities, he was very strongly urged to become a candidate for the district judgeship of this district.

MR. THOMAS IS ABSOLUTELY FEARLESS IN HIS STAND FOR WHAT IS RIGHT AND I DON'T BELIEVE THAT THE WEALTH OF THE INDIES COULD CORRUPT HIM. IN MY OPINION, HE WOULD MAKE AN IDEAL JUDGE AND ONE WHO WOULD BE CAPABLE, CONSCIENTIOUS AND PAINSTAKING IN THE PERFORMANCE OF THE DUTIES OF THAT HIGH OFFICE.

In politics, Mr. Thomas was an ardent Insurgent-Republican and was one of the pioneers in the Insurgent movement in this state. It was largely through his influences that Benson county became, as it now is, practically the strongest Progressive county in North Dakota.

Mr. Thomas during his entire residence in Leeds, was an earnest church worker, being affiliated with the Presbyterian church and was greatly in demand among the churches of this state as a lecturer on Christian Citizenship and kindred topics. I merely mention these matters to indicate to you Mr. Johnson, a sort of person that Mr. Thomas is.

Trusting that his candidacy will receive your careful consideration, I remain,

Sincerely yours,
VICTOR WARDROPE,
Member of Judiciary Committee of the House of Representatives, North Dakota.

OLD FRIENDS GIVE AN IDEA KIND OF MAN ASPIRANT IS

WHEN W. H. THOMAS BECAME AN ASPIRANT FOR THE APPOINTMENT OF JUDGE OF THE SUPERIOR COURT, A LOT OF HIS OLD FRIENDS IN NORTH DAKOTA HEARD ABOUT IT. THE RESULT WAS THAT GOV. JOHNSON RECEIVED LETTERS FROM THOSE OLD FRIENDS OF THE ASPIRANT. THEY WERE WRITTEN BY MEN OF HIGH STANDING, MEN WHO HAD NO PERSONAL OR POLITICAL INTERESTS TO SERVE BUT WHO WROTE THEIR HONEST CONVICTIONS CONCERNING THOMAS. MEN OF THEIR STANDING WOULD NOT GIVE SUCH PRAISE TO AN UNWORTHY PERSON.

NO PERSON IN ORANGE COUNTY HAS CAUSE TO DOUBT JUDGE THOMAS' HONESTY, FEARLESSNESS AND SINCERITY OF PURPOSE. IF THEY DID IT WOULD TAKE ONLY ONE READING OF THOSE NORTH DAKOTANS' LETTERS TO CONVINCE THEM OTHERWISE.

AMONG THOSE WHO WROTE TO GOV. JOHNSON WERE:
THE GOVERNOR OF NORTH DAKOTA—L. B. HANNA.

THE TREASURER OF THE UNITED STATES, WHO WAS FOR SIX YEARS GOVERNOR OF NORTH DAKOTA—JOHN BURKE.

THE FIVE JUDGES OF THE SUPREME COURT OF NORTH DAKOTA—B. F. SPAULDING, C. J. FISKE, A. A. BRUCE, E. B. GOSS AND E. T. BURKE.

THE FIRST CHIEF JUSTICE OF THE SUPREME COURT OF NORTH DAKOTA, A MAN WHO WAS FOR SIX YEARS DEAN OF THE COLLEGE OF LAW OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH DAKOTA—GUY H. CORLISS.

AN EX-JUDGE OF THE SUPREME COURT OF NORTH DAKOTA—JOHN CARMADY.

FOUR DISTRICT JUDGES OF NORTH DAKOTA—C. A. POLLOCK, C. W. BUTTZ, W. L. NUESSELE, A. G. BURR.

A JUDGE OF THE SUPERIOR COURT AT SOUTH BEND, WASH.—E. H. WRIGHT.

CONGRESSMAN NORTON OF HETTINGER, NORTH DAKOTA.
C. S. BUCK, SECRETARY OF THE NORTH DAKOTA STATE BAR ASSOCIATION.

Hon. Hiram W. Johnson,
Governor of California,
Sacramento, Cal.

Dear Sir: I have just learned that the name of W. H. Thomas of Santa Ana, has been or will be presented to your consideration of appointment to the office of judge of the Superior Court of Orange county, to fill the post created by the recent session of your Legislature providing for an ad-

THE GOVERNOR OF NORTH DAKOTA IS UNSTINTED IN PRAISE OF W. H. THOMAS

The following letter was written by the present governor of North Dakota, a Republican in politics, on May 21, 1913, at the time W. H. Thomas was up for consideration for appointment as judge of the Superior Court of Orange county:

"Hon. Hiram W. Johnson,
"Sacramento, Calif.

"My Dear Governor:—I take great pleasure in recommending to you the appointment of Hon. W. H. Thomas of Santa Ana, Calif., as Judge of the Superior Court of his county.

"I have known Mr. Thomas for years, for he was a resident of North Dakota before going to California. He is a man of high integrity and character and a good lawyer, and it was with deep regret that I saw him leave North Dakota. I have no hesitancy in recommending him to you and sincerely hope he may receive the appointment.

"Sincerely,
"L. B. HANNA,
"Governor of North Dakota."

CHIEF JUSTICE COMMENDS HIM

Says Thomas Has Courage of His Convictions; Clean
and Able

B. F. Spaulding is Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of North Dakota. Every judge of that court knows Judge Thomas intimately and every one of them wrote to Gov. Johnson in his behalf.

Chief Justice Spaulding's letter follows:

"Bismarck, N. D., May 17, 1913.

"Hon. Hiram Johnson, Governor of California, Sacramento, Cal.

"My Dear Sir:—I understand that Mr. Thomas of Santa Ana, California, is a candidate for appointment as an additional Judge of the Superior Court of the County of Orange. I take pleasure in saying that I have known Mr. Thomas for many years—I do not know how long; that he is a most patriotic, intelligent and public-spirited citizen; that he was one of the earliest in the campaign which was launched here to clean up the politics of this state. He did not, like many others, wait until he saw which way to jump, but had the courage of his convictions, and his convictions were always in favor of clean things and obedience to law. He is an excellent lawyer, a man of good sense—and I believe is eminently qualified for the position, and that no mistake will be made in appointing him. He was an official, and, as I have said, an active member of the Republican Good Government League of North Dakota, and prior to his removing to California he was also for many years secretary of the State Bar Association.

"Very respectfully yours,
"B. F. SPAULDING."

Hillsboro, N. D., May 16, 1913.
Hon. Hiram Johnson,
Sacramento, Cal.
Dear Sir: I understand the California Legislature has passed a bill providing for an additional Judge of the Superior Court of Orange County, and that Mr. W. H. Thomas of Santa Ana, is a candidate for the position.

Mr. Thomas lived and practiced law at Leeds, N. D., for many years, and was for years secretary of the State Bar Association. I have known Mr. Thomas for about twenty years and while he has always been a Republican in politics, he has been progressive in every sense of the word, and stood for good government and clean politics. His progressiveness is not of recent origin. I was president of the State Bar Association during a part of the time that Mr. Thomas was secretary. I have also been Judge of the Supreme Court of this state, retiring January 3, 1911. Consequently I know Mr. Thomas well, and if he is appointed he will perform the duties of the office with honor to himself and credit to the state.

Very truly yours,
JOHN CARMADY.

CONGRESSMAN FROM NORTH DAKOTA FOR W. H. THOMAS STRONG

House of Representatives, U. S.
Washington, D. C.

Hettinger, N. D., June 6, '13.

Hon. Hiram W. Johnson,
Governor of California,
San Francisco, Cal.

My Dear Governor Johnson:

Being advised that Hon. W. H. Thomas, of Santa Ana, your state, is being considered by you for appointment as one of the Judges of the Superior Court of Orange County, I desire to take this opportunity of commending Mr. Thomas to your most favorable consideration.

I have been personally and intimately acquainted with Mr. Thomas during all the time he resided in this state. For many years he was one of the most highly honored and respected members of our North Dakota Bar Association. He was always recognized in this state as a most successful practitioner and a man of the highest integrity and honor. Mr. Thomas acquired a well known reputation while practicing in this state for being prompt, methodical and attentive to every business entrusted to him. From my experience in practice before different courts I am convinced that these are characteristics that every good judge should possess. If Mr. Thomas is given the appointment you are considering for him, the attorneys of his district will, I know, never have reason to complain of his delay in deciding and determining any matters submitted to him.

We who have learned to admire his ability, tact and prompt attention to the business of his profession during his long years of practice here know that he will make good in the highest sense as a judge of any superior court.

Respectfully yours,
P. D. NORTON.

AT THE COURTHOUSE HERMAN COOPER ON PROBATION FOR TWO YEARS, COURT SAYS

A suspended sentence of two years in the county jail was given Herman Cooper of Tustin this morning by Judge West. Cooper withdrew a not guilty plea and entered one of guilty to a charge of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill Charles Robinson on April 16. Cooper was represented by Attorney Clyde Bishop.

Robinson was stabbed by Cooper at Cooper's house. Cooper had had trouble with Peter Robinson. The two brothers went to the place where Cooper was living, to get a team of horses. Words were followed by the attack with a knife. The Cooper witnesses said that Cooper did not use the knife until he had to in order to protect himself. The Robinson witnesses said the attack was without provocation.

The only testimony taken today was from men who know Cooper. They said that he is a good citizen, quiet and deserving of a chance.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mills Victims of Pleasant Surprise Party

Several Accidents and Some Sickness—Many Personal Items

GARDEN GROVE, Oct. 28.—A large number of friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mills on Euclid avenue, just west of the lumber yards, on Tuesday evening about 8:30 o'clock, where they waited until the arrival of the bride and groom, who were very much surprised to see about fifty friends and a dining table filled with useful presents, which were very much appreciated. The evening was spent in games, and delicious refreshments of ice cream and cakes and apples were served. Among the gifts were a dining table and six chairs from the father of Roy Mills, a handsome rug from Miss Flossie Best and a rocker from Miss Cleora Best. The presents were too numerous to permit mention of all of them. The company retired about 11 o'clock with many good wishes.

The first program meeting of the Tuesday Afternoon Club year was held with Mrs. R. M. Fay. A motor trip through the U. S. by the Lincoln Highway is the study for the year. A very interesting map talk and explanation of auto road was given by Mrs. Hemmon, and the trip from Garden Grove to Sacramento and Lake Tahoe as outlined by Mrs. Arkley, was especially interesting, as Mrs. Arkley spent about nine weeks motoring through California, going as far north as Sasta. After cooling refreshments the ladies adjourned to meet November 17 instead of November 10, that being the week of the District Federation Convention in Santa Ana.

The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Episcopal Church met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. J. Chaffee. The afternoon was devoted to business. The work of the society was planned for the coming year. A special meeting was planned for Monday afternoon, November 2, to sew for a family in need.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

When Mixed With Sulphur It Brings Back Its Lustre and Abundance

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold. Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the tonic at home or get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully and removes dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair; besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.—Advertisement.

HUNTINGTON BEACH

SMOKE MAKES WEIRD SUNSET

High School Basketball Team Again Victorious; Halloween Doings

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 30.—One of the most beautiful as well as somewhat weird scenes that has been seen over the ocean for some time was the aspect given to it Tuesday afternoon by the smoke from the fires on Laguna hills. The smoke was carried to a point not far off shore and the effect of the sunlight upon the ocean after passing through the smoke was wonderful. The whole sea appeared to be an ocean of molten bronze and hundreds of people viewed the strange sight from the homes or from the bluffs and pier.

Arrangements have been made by Principal J. R. Crandell of the grammar school, whereby a series of educational films, beginning with "The Lady of the Lake" will be presented at the local moving picture house. The first presentation was Friday afternoon.

A large number of Halloween parties have been planned for Saturday evening. The sixth grade will hold a wienie roast followed by a general Halloween jollification.

Beach Team Wins
The high school basketball team journeyed to El Monte Saturday afternoon for a game with the team of that school. About thirty rooters accompanied the team. The game was an interesting one from the spectators' standpoint but the court was somewhat rough and hard to play on. The final score stood 38 to 32 in favor of Huntington Beach although the score was several times tied during the game.

Banner Day at the high school which was postponed from last Monday will be held the first of next week.

The Harper school, which has been closed for the past ten days on account of a threatened epidemic of scarlet fever will re-open Monday. Two cases occurred in the neighborhood and the school was closed as a matter of precaution, but as no new cases have developed it has been decided to begin school again.

The Pacific Electric is repairing the damage done to the blurt last winter by the storm at the foot of Thirteenth street. A permanent concrete wall is being built.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Kegg, who suffered severely the early part of the week from an attack of ptomaine poisoning, are now much improved.

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

Eat Less Meat if You Feel Backachy or Have Bladder Trouble

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.—Advertisement.

Prohibition Sermon
'A Man, a Sheep or a Grapevine'
By the REV. J. G. KENNEDY, D. D.
(Pastor United Presbyterian Church.)

"How much then is a man better than a sheep."—Matt. 12:12.

These are the words in which Jesus held up to confusion and contempt that spirit of His day which would do for their unfortunate beasts what they would not allow Him to do, on the Sabbath, for unfortunate men. In justification of His works of deliverance for men He showed, from the conduct of their exalted David, that the needs of men outweighed the ceremonial law; from the works of their priests on the Sabbath He showed that the act of worship outweighed the letter of the moral law; from their own acts of mercy to their beasts He showed that by so much more as a man was better than a sheep by so much more should his interests be made pre-eminent over their care of the beasts. Were He making His argument for mercy to men, now in California, He would doubtless put it, "How much then is a man better than a grapevine?"

There have always been men who could compute the value of a man in the terms of the market. Joseph was considered only twenty times better than a piece of silver and Jesus Himself was valued at less than thirty pieces of money, by one who had called Him Master. It has been but sixty years since the full value of a man, if his skin was black, could be reckoned up in sheep, or oxen, or acres. If we are to believe the accounts daily appearing in our papers, there are many, still living, who esteem the life of a man of less value than a few dollars, or a little irrigating water, or a line fence, or an interest in his insurance money. You say men of that sort are not fair representatives of the men of our day, for just as the community, in its laws and customs, puts men in comparison with material values. Let us come to the Master's sheep illustration. The sheep has its enemies, as have the men. Do we do more to protect the sheep, by law, than we do to protect the men? The wolf is a menace to the sheep, and he is made an outlaw in every state in the Union and is hunted relentlessly and bounties are offered in many states for his destruction. He does not need to be proven guilty of sheep-killing in order to have his life forfeited wherever caught. His wolf nature condemns him to destruction.

AT ONCE! CLOGGED NOSTRILS OPEN, HEAD COLDS AND CATARRH VANISH

Breathe Freely! Clears Stuffed-up, Inflamed Nose and Head and Stops Catarrhal Discharge. Cures Dull Headache.

Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it—apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. By morning the catarrh, cold-in-head or catarrhal sore throat will be gone.

End such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane which lines the nose, head and throat; clears the air passages; stops nasal discharges and a feeling of cleansing, soothing relief comes immediately.

Don't lay awake tonight struggling for breath, with head stuffed; nostrils closed, hawking and blowing; Catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, foul and mucous dripping into the throat, and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless.

Put your faith—just once—in "Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear.—Advertisement.

our men better than our beasts under the protection of our laws?

Jesus thought that one hideous, howling, hell-filled maniac was worth more than two thousand fat hogs. The man must be delivered though many dollars' worth of capital which had been invested where it should never have been placed, should perish.

Nor is this all. The horticultural interests of our state are great, hence we employ a State Horticulturist at a salary of $4000 per year; his chief deputy gets $2500, their secretary $2000 and their clerk $1500; the chief quarantine deputy must be $2400 and his assistant $1800; the chief insectary draws another $2400 and his assistant $1800; the field deputy inspector receives $1500. Then comes an army of experts, as they in authority may see fit to employ them, to go all over the state, the nation, yea, the world, in search of that which will destroy the enemies of our fruits, our flowers, our vines, our trees, our shrubs, our plants, our grasses, our grains. Or, inspectors who are allowed $3.50 per day. All this precaution and expense to protect our horticultural products from their enemies. What is the state doing to protect our boys from their most alluring and destructive enemy, the saloon? At great expense bulletins have been published containing large sized cuts of every insect, or scale that is injurious to our plant life, or scale that is injurious to our plant life, giving their history, habits, injurious work, best methods of destroying them and naming and importing their natural enemies for their destruction. The resources of the state officers, state treasury and state schools are combined for the protection of every kind of fruit and animal life except the fruits of human parentage and the lives of men. The first law of California that we met on entering the state, was your quarantine law against the bringing in of Florida grape fruit; it could not be bought in dining car, after crossing the California line, even the insect powders and germicides that are sold or shipped into the state are carefully protected from adulteration. The weapons of defense against the destroyers of our material wealth must always be of the highest quality. No germ is so small but that it will be hunted down with high-power microscopes and a way for its destruction be discovered. The saloons which infect the bodies and the minds and the souls of men with the germs of a living death and an eternal hell may be ever so large and ever so numerous and ever so malignant and still go unmolested; nay, even be authorized to prosecute their work of blight and scab and rot on men. How much then is a man better than an orange tree, or a grape vine in the State of California? In the same school that is spending money of the state lavishly to help fight the enemies of the plants, there is a viticulturist paid out of the same funds to devise the best methods of fermenting, distilling and rectifying wines that will blight the men of the state. The best methods of spreading the poison to the men farther off, also falls to the work of this same department of our state school; the best kinds of coo-perage in which to ship the stuff and the best kind of cellars in which to keep it for its mission of death must be sought by him. The state teaches how to poison the health of the trees and how to poison the lives of the men. How much better is the orange tree and the grape vine than the man?

A fine reeds over the head of the man who kills a mocking-bird, or breaks her eggs, or disturbs her nest; but the business that kills men and destroys the unborn child, and disturbs the peaceful nest of every home into which it enters receives the approval of the state and the nation.

The bees must also have state and county officers to protect them from the enemies that would invade their hives, disturb their peace, destroy their young or steal their honey; but that enemy that would invade the homes of men to disturb, to destroy, to rob of all that is most precious to the human heart is given legal authority for so doing and is protected in its helieth work while doing it. How much better is a man than a bee?

Would you like to ship in some alfalfa or some straw from Utah, Idaho, or parts of Wyoming? Well, you would not be allowed to do it under any circumstances; you could not even have a bundle of trees, tied up in straw, come from those states, because there is a weevil in the alfalfa up there and we must protect our alfalfa; but any one can ship into our state that which everybody knows will spread the blight of death among our men. How much better is a man than a field of alfalfa?

Woe to any man that would pollute the fields of California with Russian thistle, saltwort, or Johnson grass, so say our state laws, and they are wise; but the business that is sure to pollute the physical, the intellectual and the spiritual fields of men is legalized for a price. How much better is alfalfa soil in California than a man?

A heavy fine awaits the man that brings in an Australian rabbit that might gnaw our trees or vines; but an office often waits for the man that brings into our homes the beast that gnaws at our very heart strings. Punish the man who brings in a flying fox to eat our fruit; but welcome the man, if he has the price set by law, to fly, bat-like, into our homes and destroy the dearest and best fruits thereof; punish the man that brings in a mongoose that might suck our hens' eggs, but vote for the business that would suck your own mother's heart's blood.

You notice that in all the literature sent forth not a syllable is uttered in favor of the saloon. It is the grown so bad that the cunning old devil has ceased to champion it. The publications against prohibition are all issued in the interest of "Real Temperance," or "Real Prohibition," or "the grape grower," or "the hotel keeper," and license is always preached as the infallible remedy for the glaring iniquities of the saloon business. London has had license for six hundred years, is it not about time it was showing some signs of improvement? But look at her, wallowing in her shame and crime. The policy of license and taxation has been in force in the United States for sixty years, and where are the signs of improvement under this policy? Is it not time to try state and national prohibition for about fifty years and see what we will see? Do you know why a million dollars is being spent in California to keep it wet? With about one-fourth

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

Vegetables have been plentiful this fall in all lines and prices have remained low much later than usual. Declines instead of increases have been coming in numerous lines in the past day or two. Lettuce is selling as low as 35 cents a crate on good stuff. Northern and local tomatoes are plentiful, and are bringing an average of 40 cents a box. Squash and pumpkins have been very plentiful.

There were a few changes in the poultry market, broilers going up to 22 cents, and fryers to 17 as a buying price from the producer to the dealer. Turkeys are showing continued weakness, and the top range of prices dropped from 24 to 22 cents. Light birds are more plentiful than good heavy stock.

The market on eggs here was very firm.

KETTNER SAYS APPROPRIATION FOR NEWPORT

Says He Attends to Job at Capitol Same as When on Cubbon's Ranch Here

Congressman William Kettner and Col. D. C. Collier came into Santa Ana in the rain last night. That same rain prevented the open air meeting that was to have been held. The congressman, however, met a number of friends at the Rossmore Hotel, and talked of his campaign prospects in a manner that shows that he is confident of winning next Tuesday. In his conversation the congressman reverted frequently to reminiscences of the two years that he lived in Santa Ana over a quarter of a century ago.

"I have not been doing politics back in Washington," said he. "I have been hard at work attending strictly to my job, just the same as I did when I was pitching hay on John Cubbon's ranch in Santa Ana in 1888, when I was making orange boxes for the Earl Fruit Company on the railroad platform in Santa Ana at eighty cents per hundred boxes, or when I was packing oranges under A. S. Bradford, who was at that time foreman of D. Halladay's orchard."

"I have earnestly tried to be of the greatest possible benefit to my district. I have tried to forget party lines. In fact, I secured the appointment of old soldiers, Republicans, as postmasters at Oceanside, Elsinore and Beaumont, and Progressives at Pt. Loma and Perris."

"You know it is an old saying that a congressman can do nothing in his first term. That is not true. I feel that I did a great deal. This much is certainly true, this is the first time in the history of the state that Southern California outside of Los Angeles got any recognition in federal appointments. Hitherto Los Angeles got everything."

"I have undertaken certain propositions that I am going to finish. One of them is putting a straight-jacket on the Colorado river. Another is for Newport harbor. I am going to see that Newport harbor plans are adopted and that there is an appropriation

DRINK HOT TEA FOR A BAD COLD

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Tee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus driving a cold from the system.

Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.

RUB BACKACHE AND LUMBAGO RIGHT OUT

Rub Pain and Stiffness away with a small bottle of old honest
St. Jacobs Oil

When your back is sore and lame or lumbago, sciatica or rheumatism has you stiffened up, don't suffer! Get a 25-cent bottle of old, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it right into the pain or ache, and by the time you count fifty, the soreness and lameness is gone.

Don't stay crippled! This soothing, penetrating oil needs to be used only once. It takes the ache and pain right out of your back and ends the misery. It is magical, yet absolutely harmless and doesn't burn the skin.

Nothing else stops lumbago, sciatica and lame back misery so promptly!

Scene from the Last Act of "The Bird of Paradise"

The remarkable scenic effect in the last, or volcanic scene of Oliver Morosco's "Bird of Paradise" production, has been the subject of much comment and many questions. The similitude of a flaming volcano's reflection is perfect; the red glare of incandescent, subterranean lava seems absolutely thrown upon the sky. The illumination is portentous, ominous—even terrifying, in the dramatic moments of the play's finale, yet the mechanism is nowhere apparent; the wings of this spectacle do not flap, nor do its chains clank. The "Bird of Paradise" is to be at the Grand Opera House Monday, November 2. The designer, to get down to the truth of the matter, is no other than that remarkable master of every department of stagecraft and stage mechanics, Oliver Morosco, himself.

to deepen the channel. I say I am going to do these things, because I judge of what I am going to do by what I have done as a member of the rivers and harbors committee of Congress.

"I kept lemons from going on the free list. In fact, I took them off the free list, for the ways and means committee put them on the free list and had passed it through the house. Shortly after my election in November and at my own expense I went to Washington and presented my evidence and got that committee to put a half-cent duty on lemons. I do not boast, but in justice to my record, I lay claim to having saved the lemons from the free list."

In Fighting Clothes
Col. D. C. Collier, father of the San Diego exposition, is accompanying Kettner. Col. Collier speaks whenever he gets a chance, and what he says is reported to be red-hot. He goes after J. C. Needham, Kettner's Republican opponent, hammer and tongs.

"He threw down our exposition," said Collier. "In my speeches I tell the hide off of him, and I defy him to have me arrested for criminal libel or sued for slander. I called on him to answer my charges. He made a statement in the Union that did not answer my charges."

The statement referred to was produced by the following message sent by wire from Santa Ana by Collier to the San Diego Sun this morning:

"I have denounced J. C. Needham in every county in this district as a carpetbagger and a traitor to San Diego and its exposition. His shifty and evasive statement in Monday morning's Union does not answer my charges. I therefore hereby challenge him to meet me in joint debate next Monday evening in San Diego. I authorize L. J. Wilde to represent me and will consent to almost any conditions for the privilege of meeting him face to face before a San Diego audience."

President's Indorsement
While talking to those who had gathered at the Rossmore last night, Kettner received a wire from Fred H. Hall, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, giving to Kettner the wording of a telegram just received by Hall from President Woodrow Wilson. The president's message to Hall read as follows:

"White House, Washington, Oct. 26, 1914. To Fred Hall, San Francisco: It is a real pleasure to speak for those who have stood by the cause of the people and manifested in a very practical way their support of just progressive legislation. Certainly Mr. Raker, Mr. Kettner and Mr. Church are men of this type. Their quality has been tested by their service. It would seem to me little more than justice to them that their constituents should return them to the House where with lengthened service they will be able to give the country the benefit of their quality more and more effectively from month to month."

"WOODROW WILSON."
Out Shaking Hands
Kettner and Collier escorted by H. C. Head and C. D. Owens, chairman and secretary of the Democratic County Central Committee, and several other Democrats, are today touring the county. Tonight the two visitors will address the Newport Beach Chamber of Commerce. They will be in Santa Ana tomorrow.

A PROHIBITION SERMON

of the population of the United States we have here, according to the World Almanac for 1913, about one-fifth of all the saloons in our country. Only one state in the Union is more terribly cursed with the saloon business than are we, while New York has only half as many per capita as we have.

Now what about the grape vine that may possibly be dug up if we vote to save our men? Which is better the vine or the man? What a loss $9,000,000 will be to the grape grower! Or that $9,000,000 will be to the wine makers. Let us see how the figures of profit and loss look when set over against each other. There are at least 20,000,000 light drinkers in the United States and at least 5,000,000 heavy drinkers and drunkards. These figures are low, for they would have to drink on the average of 85 gallons of liquor apiece to get away with that which our government says is consumed in this country. According to insurance statistics, made up through many years of careful investigation, with millions of cases, those light drinkers lose on an average 13 years from the length of their lives. 20,000,000 times 13 equals 260,000,000 years lost by that crowd out of their lives. The heavy drinkers, according to the same statistics, lose on an average 29 years off their lives. 5,000,000 times 29 equals 145,000,000 years lost by that crowd. Together those who do the drinking in the United States shorten their lives by the aggregate of 405,000,000 years. From the age of twenty, whence these figures were made, these men should have lived to the average age of 64, or their expectation, if they had been teetotalers, would have been 44 years after the age of twenty. Now divide the total aggregate loss of years, as found above, and you have 9,204,000 as the yearly loss of years from the productive labor of the United States. Since we have one-fifth of all the saloons doing business in the United States, it will be fair to charge at least one-sixteenth of the loss through shortened lives, to California. Divide again by sixteen and you have California's yearly share of loss as over 575,000 years. These men ought to have been worth to the world three hundred dollars per year. Multiply by 300 and we get over $172,500,000 as our annual loss through the shortened lives of drinkers. According to Hobson's figures, California's loss through the inefficiency of those who labor under the influence of liquor would be $500,000,000. Her share of the drink bill, according to the number of her saloons, is $135,957,000. Add the money loss through shortened lives, through inefficiency and through the cost of the drink and we have the appalling total of $807,000,000 as the total for California's share of the money loss through the saloon business. How loss through the wine grape industry of which we hear so much? That much loss is six per cent on $14,413,509,900, or about $900,000 for every acre of wine grapes in the state. These figures, given above, take no account of the loss of time by the bums and tramps, made so by drink, nor of the idle time of the 3000 men in our state prisons because of drink, nor of the $29,000,000 it takes to care for the product of the drink traffic in our courts, jails, penitentiaries, asylums and poor farms.

As a minister of the Gospel, which magnifies men as immortal beings made to share His glory with God Himself, I would be ashamed to close with a money argument. I am thinking of those 2500 infants in the United States that are smothered every year by drunken parents, and our share, 156, killed by their God-appointed protectors before they scarce begin to live. I am thinking of those 5000 suicides in our land every year and of our allotment of 312 of that number. I am thinking of those 300 wives murdered every year, in our fair land, by their drink-maddened husbands, and of our 187 of them. I am thinking of those other 700 people murdered through the effect of strong drink and of our yearly portion of 437. I am thinking of that procession of 40,000 heart-broken widows left in poverty and disgrace through the work of the saloons and of our share of them, 2500. I am thinking of that army of 300,000 drunkards falling into hell every year (Hobson makes it about 700,000; I am afraid he is nearer right than I) and of our share, according to our proportion of the saloons, of 18,750 plunging forward to perdition every year. And still we are asked to continue to debauch our men, break the hearts of our women, blight the lives and prospects of our boys, and feed souls by the thousands into the fires of hell to save the grape growers $6,000,000. How much in your estimate is a man better than a grape vine? O Voters! What a splendid thing it is to live in a state where all its resources are at the disposal of the citizen in his fight against the enemies of his orchard, his vineyard, his meadow, his field, his bees, his chickens, his herd and his flock! What a shame that all these same resources are not being used, with redoubled diligence, to aid the citizen in his fight with the most deadly enemy of his home, his wife, his children, his manhood, his health, his honor and his eternal hope! God has set man supreme over every living thing. Will you set his welfare supreme over every material interest on November 2nd?

How much do you value a man above a grape vine? "Twas a dangerous cliff, as they freely confessed, Though to walk near its crest was so pleasant, For over its terrible edge there had slipped A duke and full many a peasant. So, the people said, 'something will have to be done'. But their projects did not at all tally; Some said, 'Put a fence 'round the edge of the cliff'. Some, 'Put an ambulance down in the valley'."

"So the cry for the ambulance carried the day. For it spread through the neighboring city. A fence may be useful or not, it is true, But each heart became brim full of pity For those who fell over the dangerous cliff. And the dwellers in highway and alley Gave pounds, or gave pence, not to put up a fence, But an ambulance down in the valley. "For, 'the cliff is all right for the careful,' they said, 'And a folks ever slip and are dropping'. It is not the slipping that hurts them so much As the shock down below in the stopping'. So day after day as these mishaps occurred, Quick forth would those rescuers sally To pick up the victims who fell off the cliff, With their ambulance down in the valley. "Then an old sage remarked, 'It's a marvel to me; The people give far more attention To repairing results than to stopping the cause. When they had much better aim at prevention: Let us stop at its source all this mischief,' said he, 'Come, neighbors and friends, let us rally. If the cliff we will fence, we might also dispense With the ambulance down in the valley. "Better guide well the young than rescue the old. The voice of true wisdom is calling: To rescue the fallen is good, but 'tis best To prevent other people from falling. Better close up the source of temptation and crime, Than deliver from dungeon and gallery; Better put a strong fence 'round the top of the cliff Than an ambulance down in the valley."
